

I have worked in Melbourne's western suburbs for more than 30 years. Many of my patients struggle to cover health costs in the present climate. Any reduction to Medicare cover would pose major problems for them.

Rob Mathew