

Brief submission

Government services should be directly delivered by government, not outsourced or privatised. The profit incentive can redirect priorities in a way that will damage the support the public needs.

Stanley Rosenthal