I have worked in many organizations in my field of work and as such have seen many things that people in those organizations do to help them with some sort of problem which they think or are told they have. Many times when they open the draw of there desk I see that there is some sort of tablets in there in its foil wrapping.I do not know if these tablets are for a headache or some thing else but a lot of people have some sort of tablet for some reason or other.

I am sure these people would feel much better if they did not take the tablets and was able to just get off them. Drugs attenuates you awareness level so it is not really helping you. It would be better to keep your self busy to get your mind off any problem you may have.I feel that there are too many tablets issued by doctors and in many cases multiple tablets which brings me to school children.

I have worked in 100s of schools over the years and I remember the 1st time I saw about 6 children in the admin office to receive there tablets at the beginning of the day for so called ADHD.

These children should not be on the drugs as the drugging of children in not the way to handle the real under lying problem which may be as simple as not having breakfast before going to school or not having enough sleep.Not enough investigation is carried out to find the real reason behind the problem so it is so easy to blame it on some label which was actually invented.

It is normal for children to be alive and active as well as board at times, it is not normal to stop this behavior by drugging them.

Drugs , ECT etc is no way of handling any problem and should not be used.

Let children be children and handle any issue when it comes up by communicating with them to find out what the upset is then handle the problem but not by drugging them.

I see no reason at all to screen young children at any age for some thing which may or may not be there.

Please stop the drugging of young children of any age .
