

As a registered nurse with over 40 years experience I am a great supporter of Medicare.

The most vulnerable in our society are treated equally in the health system as the most affluent.

I dread the time when profit is the goal and not better patient care. I have already seen a difference in priorities when having done some agency shifts in Private Hospitals. The goals are very different. I guarantee 99% of those working in health would have similar views to mine. We are a great nation based on fairness and equality, this is a large part of our culture.

Medicare needs to be protected.
