Dear Commissioners of the Productivity Inquiry into Mental Health,

I am writing concerning the inquiry and what has come of it. It has come to my attention it is being proposed that 1.25 million zero to 3 year olds are going to be screened for "Mental Illness".

This is very similar to the "Healthy kids check" that was scrapped in 2015 due to huge public criticism.

My view is that something like this should not go ahead as it is not scientifically backed, no blood tests, no physical evidence that a zero or 3 year old could have a Mental Illness.

I strongly disagree with something that propose to "Diagnose" children based on no Scientific testing and then drug them with Drugs that cause suicidal thoughts, muscle cramps, addiction, etc.

So I am asking you to review and not go ahead with this submission as it's not based on any facts/scientificly proven.

Kind Regards
