

The government is voted into power by the people and it is up to the government to look after the people and provide basic health and hospital services for them. Medicare is needed to ensure everyone has access to drs and hospitals. In many cases, when big business takes over a business it usually costs the public more money for less service.

Michelle Ricketts