Productivity Commission Inquiry into the increased application of competition, contestability and informed user choice to human services

I have worked in the welfare sector for 20 years this year and to allow a business / money orientated service to deliver the same passion that current NGOS do is ludicrous You don't work in the community / welfare sector for the money you work here because you care and not to make money I am devastated that anyone would even contemplate. You cant sit up In your oval office and make decisions you need to work on the ground to get a real feel of what is needed It doesn't matter which party (labor or liberal) what are you thinking please don't do this to the most vulnerable people in Australia
