To whom it may concern,

Cerebral Palsy Alliance was pleased to receive the Productivity Commission's NDIS Costs Issues Paper dated February 2017. We strongly support the introduction of the NDIS and are committed to supporting the design and implementation of this major disability reform.

We recognise and value the effort taken by the Australian Government in undertaking such a significant review of NDIS costs to inform the final design of the full scheme and welcome the opportunity to respond.

We did wish to offer our comments and responses to these issues. We have summarised our feedback on the following pages and the views contained within this submission reflect our desire to represent the interests of our organisation and those that it serves, children and adults with disability and their families.

We would be happy to give further information upon request.

Yours sincerely

Rob White
Chief Executive Officer
