

I wish to draw the Commission's attention to my article in The Conversation which commens on the Draft Report: <https://theconversation.com/3-in-4-people-with-a-mental-illness-develop-symptoms-before-age-25-we-need-a-stronger-focus-on-prevention-126180>. This article argues that there needs to be more attention to reducing adverse childhood experiences.