

A free, effective and universally accessible health care system is a foundation for any civilised society.

Organising healthcare around profit results in distortions, inefficiencies, and the neglect of basic preventative measures in favour of high tech, bottom of the cliff interventions.

In the USA; lack of affordable public health care is the main cause of bankruptcy, despite almost twice the GDP expenditure on health as in Australia.

Michael Schien