

Brief submission

Privatisation of any health care will have and has shown that the clients of the system will suffer because of the organisations looking after their profits and shareholders. Healthcare is there to look after the health of people not make money.

Sally McCreath