Dear Sir/madam

I write as a registered architect to express my strong opinion that the registration of architects in Australia is an important process which operates to the benefit of the community as a whole. I support the Architects Board of WA in their view that registration be retained and that a Uniform Act be introduced across Australia, administered by local boards.

I would also stress that we already effectively operating in a deregulated environment, in which anyone, whatever their knowledge, qualifications or experience, can design and document any building they like. The best way for the public to identify those with appropriate qualifications is through registration.

Yours faithfully
