To Whom it May Concern,

I'm sorry for the hasty notes, we are all very busy with sheep work at present so I didn't have time to re-type. I hope you find our thoughts and concerns useful in your inquiry and that in the end we can have a service that suits and pleases the majority.

Yours sincerely,

Kerry-Anne Dean

ON RADIO

On this Day. What interest is there in this?

Comedy turns with laughter. Hardly worth listening to unless glued to the wireless.

Too much talkback.

No classical or medium music. The rest gets turned off.

Most news readers talk to quickly, trying to get more news through in the time.

ON TV

A lot of interesting programs are put on at 9:30pm or 10:00pm. Too late for the ordinary watchers. Other programmes on earlier could be left until later with fewer watchers. Quite often the writing below the segments isn't left on long enough to be able to read.

SBS – Who watches it? Has a survey ever been conducted regarding viewer numbers? $120 million seems too much for something that a minimal number of people watch.

Saturday and Sunday afternoon viewing – Why is there just sport, sport and more sport across all channels?

What's wrong with a family movie in this time slot?

Delve into the archives and re-air timeless classics, eg Rush

RADIO

Whose decision was it to cut the racing broadcast each Saturday afternoon on the ABC? At least one local council in South West Queensland outlayed money to broadcast 4TAB throughout their Shire. This money could have been channelled into other needy areas if the ABC had decided to stick with racing.
