

Though it may be difficult in the short term because of state political interests, the long term aim should be that throughout the Basin water trading terms and conditions should be similar.

Currently NSW licence holders can sell in conditions where Vic licence holders cannot. For example, where I live in North East Victoria, trading is restricted to licence holders only on “Regulated Rivers” which excludes a large number of licencees who could well wish to trade water.

Paul McGowan
Vic